Summary

I work with clients to protect their current assets and achieve peace of mind with a personalized estate plan. My practice is made of a domestic portion and an international planning portion where I help non-U.S. families develop plans and structures to pass their wealth to the next generation. I also help families navigate the U.S. probate court system and administer trust plans when loved ones pass away or become disabled.

I cherish the opportunity to work collaboratively with wealth advisers, accountants and insurance professionals to better serve clients in our complementary fields.
